

Picture Writing Prompt (real life)

Write a story about a man walking his dog on a quiet afternoon. Imagine the sun setting, casting long shadows as the man strolls through the park with his dog happily trotting alongside. What do you think might be happening during their walk?

Think about:

- Where are they walking, and why did the man choose this spot? Is it a familiar place, or are they exploring somewhere new?
- What is the dog doing as they walk? Is it sniffing around, chasing squirrels, or pulling on the leash to go faster?
- What might happen during their walk? Will they meet anyone or stumble upon something unexpected like a hidden path or a mysterious object?
- Are there other characters watching or interacting with them, like other dog walkers, park visitors, or even a mischievous animal following them?
